Terms an conditions

I hereby grant the MHH Library the simple (non-exclusive), perpetual right to store the publication mentioned above on its server and make it available on the intranet. All other rights relating to the use of the work remain unaffected.

As part of the public provision of these documents, users are entitled to download, save or print a small number of copies for private or other use (Section 53 of the German Copyright Act). Further rights may be granted by adding a Creative Commons licence.

The MHH Library is granted the right to convert the document into other electronic or physical formats as required and to use these in accordance with the principles set out above.

I confirm that I hold the copyright to the work and that the publication of the document or any of its components (e.g. images, offprints) does not infringe the rights of any third parties.

The MHH Library is entitled to block access to a publication if there are concrete grounds for suspecting an infringement of third-party rights. The publisher will be notified of this. The responsibility for avoiding conflicts of interest remains with the holder of the exploitation rights and does not lie with the MHH Library. I shall indemnify the MHH against all claims by third parties arising from an infringement of rights due to the publication of the work in the MHH repository.

The MHH Library accepts no liability for any damages resulting from the infringement of copyright or related rights. I undertake to notify the MHH Library immediately in the event of any doubt or in the event of any suspected or actual infringement.

Under the legal deposit scheme provided for by the German National Library Act, the MHH Library makes the document and metadata available to the dnb and reserves the right to make the data available for use in other catalogues as well.

The MHH Library accepts no liability in the event that the document is unlawfully downloaded, altered or distributed by a third party, unless this is due to a breach of duty on the part of the MHH resulting from wilful misconduct or gross negligence.
