

DFG Publication Fund 23/25 Application for assumption of costs for an open access publication (APC)

The publication fund covers the costs of publications in purely open access journals (except MDPI) if:

- they are LOM-eligible according to MHH regulations
- third-party funds made available for research have been exhausted.

The application must be accompanied by

- the article and the peer review opinions (for the publication types Review and Letter)
- the original invoice

Please ensure that your publication correctly names the MHH (Hannover Medical School) and uses your MHH e-mail address (see Affiliation and Publication Guidelines).

I hereby confirm that I have prioritised the use of any waivers and vouchers. If this application is not approved, I undertake to pay the APC by other (university) means. I have read the MHH data protection information and agree to it. I agree that the publication may be republished on the MHH publication server, provided that the publishing licence permits this.
